Embraced in Taboo

Hello, I'm Shinjo Mayo.
First, I'd like to thank all of the people who picked up this book. This is my first serialization, so I'm sooo nervous. Well, without delay I'm going to answer some of your questions.

Q1. Are you doing the same magazine?
A1. I get this question a lot... why? No, I'm not.

Q2. Since when did you want to become a manga-ka?
A2. After I graduated from high school. A friend of mine was carrying a manga tool, and I thought it seemed interesting. Because they taught me how to draw, and since I wanted to become a manga-ka, I moved to Tokyo. (Reckless girl...sweatdrop)

Q3. Who are your favorite manga-ka? (listed Western-style)
A3. Takeshi Okazaki, Chiho Saitou, Ami Toujou, Masahiko Inoue, Atsushi (or Kiyoshi) Kamijou (or Uejou), and he's not a manga-ka, but the animator Naoe Onda.

Q4. What do you do on your days off?
A4. I'll go and see Shijou Troupe, and sometimes chase after Yuuichirou Yamaguchi.

Q5. What is your favorite color and animal?
A5. Color is gold. Animal is tiger.

Q6. Your treasured item?
A6. My kitty Yuuichirou and your fan mail.

MONSTERS AND EVIL CREATURES...

I have really liked monster and evil creatures for the longest time. There are representatives of monsters, even in movies such as vampires and Satan. I really loved "Interview with a Vampire" and "Omen 2." Speaking of evil creatures, I loved mafia movies like, "Godfather," "Year of the Dragon," and "The Untouchables." I'm still watching mafia movies. It's strange, but in dramas, in movies, I find myself supporting the evil characters. If I said I liked Gaston from "Beauty and the Beast," I would be looked at with white eyes. In the past I used to watch the anime, "Space Battleship Yamato," but I really loved the white-faced villan, General Desura. And if I think about it, from about that time, I thought that I was kind of different from other people. Afterwards, that person became good, but when he became good, his fire was cooled.

Then I started reading novels by Chizuru Boruja and Nanami Shiono. If I can say that Al Capone is a monster, I also love the "Phantom of the Opera." Especially the Phantom. (Of course.) He's my love. There were rumors that Yuuichiro Yamaguchi of the Four Seasons Troupe would be playing the role. Recently the Phantom's life and novel, "Phantom (I and 2)" were released, but I'm reading them more and more. I became a Phantom fan.

Next is Mephisto Fires. That is an evil creature. A very beautiful person appeared in "Faust," a play by a literary master Goethe. poo. To say that, in my opinion, monsters and evil creatures are very very necessary and indispensable. Someday I'll introduce those guys, and see if I can draw a manga.

Contribution Era - The second time I drew a vampire, but finally, one did not see the eyes of day
Lord Urado
I think that vampires have black hair and golden eyes..

About Americans

This is my last post. My energy source and the models for my male characters are also here. A little bit about Americans. I see them within myself. I really like American women. Especially black-haired white people. I'm weak against Belle's eyes. And why Tom Cruise? I'm already swooning.

My countryside house is near Sasebo (there is an American Naval base here). I go there to sight-see, wandering the streets, and when I saw a foreigner, I would go "Kyaa, kyaa!"

Why do you ask? I was really happy because the Navy was in Sasebo (I think their uniforms are really cool). Even at work I selected a video I personally used "Handsome Youth Video" and "Wild Video" a western music promotional video. As expected the tensions started to rise. Everyone if there is a recommendable foreigner feel free to tell me.

SPECIAL THANX

Assistants

Makiko Ishi— Always you take my difficult orders with no complaints, thank you! Let's follow Yuuichi Yamaguchi again, okay?

Sanae Yamazaki - Queen of Dorkness. She's the assistant who helped a lot with the last story in Emotions in Tango. I'll bring some more weird videos later...okay?
